And this is where the twain shall meet
Envision
A silent dorm, a giant complex.
Rising in steel and majesty from emptiness
Solemn, impressive monuments to the fame of an era,
Our era
Where the old, the musty, the cumbersome
Meets the streamlined new in an interlocking embrace
And we, as well, now turn our faces upward, striving
To grasp that closeness, that drive for humanity
Where tradition and progress meet to become one.
As steps carry us beyond
The walls of Juniata—beyond her wildest dreams
For Us.
Yet, let this be our goal
A bridge—one step beyond
To better the world in which we live.

A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops.

Faculty and Administration

Seated: Dr. Calvert Ellis, President; Standing: Morley J. Mays, Vice President; John T. Fike, Vice President; Harold B. Brumbaugh, Vice President.

Administration

President Ellis and Mr. Brumbaugh.

Tradition holds a high place in Juniata College as evidenced by the attempt and efforts of her administration, respective Deans, and faculty to keep the "small college atmosphere", yet integrate it with the growing demands of progressive education. Through new, modern facilities, the Science Complex, new dorms, the college has attempted to keep the two hand in hand, by seeing that the new meet the old. Even with the progressive computers, tabulating convocation attendance, and analyzing student scheduling, the traditional warm personal interest is evidenced by the concern of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women in students as individuals, and this interest has gained rather than depreciated in value. Thus, through the joint efforts of these three branches, working closely together, Juniata College begins a new phase in her development; yet she still retains the personal warmth which can be grasped and held only in the concerned and dedicated individuals which make-up her administration, faculty and guidance.

This Was the Class of '66

1962 seems quite a long time ago. In four years we have been able to pass from our adolescence and plunge into our adulthood. A conglommerate of high school graduates, strangers to the college, to each other and to ourselves, we came to Juniata, ready to receive and not yet aware of how much we would give. As freshmen, we found we were guinea pigs testing dormitory programs. Some women found themselves living among upperclasswomen, rather than with the other women of the class of '66 in Brumbaugh, Oneida, N. J. or Emmert Houses. As as result, they found that they were not as well acquainted with their classmates as soon. The men, on the other hand, found themselves all rooming in North Dorm to the greater distraction of all, or is there always a swimming pool on the first hall and a sliding board on the second?

First acquaintances were made during Freshman Days and students making the greatest impression regretted it at Frosh Court. Redheads were a special delight of the upperclassmen, unfortunately for Mimi Allison, Meg Graff, and Sue Riddle. Mr. Barbash, who instructed the first year of Great Epochs held in Oller Hall, was unimpressed with "Tiny" Stitely's feminine attire. Gretchen Rummel developed a special dislike for worms which she had to count upon command.

Still sporting dinks, name tags, and blue and gold socks or ties, we became better acquainted in our efforts to construct a Homecoming float and to organize teams for the Frosh-Soph Games. Rich Buchanan, Doug Dutterer, Mimi Allison and Ron Quell, as the class officers worked to co-ordinate these efforts. The Frosh-Soph Games were played on rain-soaked fields in a chilling drizzle. Pulling off a victory at hockey but losing the football game, we emerged victorious in the tug-of-war at half time on Homecoming Day. The gargantual football player we mounted on our float was less than a success with his wobbling head ar l drooping trousers but the cider consumed in construction was delicious. On behalf of the Juniata World Service Fund, campus donations elected Debbie Miller as the Freshman Queen. Later in the year, our class put forth a winning effort in the Penny Mile for the same cause.

As various winter sports became the focus of campus activity, we became aware of more of our classmates. We knew Bill Holland, Ron Housel, Tom Snyder, and Jack Warfield from the football games and we supported their efforts as we sat in the Freshman Card Section. Cross country runners Nick Hudak and Dave Phillips spent their time trying to beat the clock during half time meets. During the winter, we saw the efforts of Ted Baldwin, Jim Bronson, Bert Goodrich, and Lou Rarig on the basketball court. Ken MacFadden, Dean Richards, Mel Rummel, and Kent Trexler bolstered the fledgling wrestling team. In the spring, Fred Boyer, Bill Kauffman, and Jim Reid were welcome additions to the baseball team as Paul Larson spent his spare time running around the track.

As freshmen, we were confronted with the traumatic task of attiring Oller Hall for the Christmas season. Despite any garb that was tried, the building always managed to look like Oller Hall. Perhaps our huge wreath and high flying angels helped the Christmas spirit a bit.

At the end of the first semester we met Judy Geiser, Sue Grimes, Carol Heaton, Bill Hofelt, Shirley Hoover, Jim Lehman, and Ann Meyers, who achieved distinction and recognition on the Dean's List. Others, who shall go unnamed, found they had been recognized on another, unpublished list of the Dean. One of the highlights of the winter semester came with All-Class Night. As do most freshman classes, we presented our gripes in the musical play medium "Hang Down Your Head, Joe Freshman." No part of the college was sacrosanct in this further opportunity for casual acquaintances and our first look at the competition other classes presented.

The spring brought several freshman girls invitations to a Herian tea. All the girls remembered the Herians who had helped them through their first confusion of rules and customs. They were further pleased, upon arriving at the Faculty Club, to find that they were to carry on the traditions of the group during their sophomore year. In the spring, we elected Jim Lehman, Sue Riddle, Carolyn Ambler, and Ed Thorn to serve as our sophomore class officers. In another election we selected Marty Bryson and Kathy Eberding to May Day court before we plunged into our second batch of final exams and finally left for vacation!

Coming back on campus was a curious experience; we were no longer the novices of last year and we came to realize what sort of impression we had made on the general campus a year before. The humiliating fact was that we were not the focus of attention we might previously had imagined. This realization may well be called the sophomore slump. We were has-beens.

The first class effort for the fall proved to be a winning Homecoming float. Sue Swanger planned the spirited vehicle depicting a Roaring Twenties speak-easy complete with Ted Mantegna, making his solo debut, at the honkey-tonk piano. The Frosh-Soph Games were a failure from the sophomore point of view but we had our satisfaction watching Fred Boyer direct the freshmen in the Card Section. In the last Fall Play to be presented on Parents' Day, we saw Marc Robbins cavort as the physician in "The Physician In Spite of Himself". Carol Sheets played his sharp-tongued wife.

The assassination of President John F. Kennedy shocked us out of our generally isolated existence as students and for several days we found ourselves caught up in the unbelievable national tragedy. Those of us with and without particular political interests experienced the President's death as peculiarly personal.

When we returned to the concerns closer at hand, we found the Christmas season approaching. Lynn Foster did such a commendable job of planning and executing our stained-glass window for Founder's porch that we were awarded a special honorable mention.

Along with his duties as class president, Jim Lehman spent considerable time working to revive the college literary magazine, "Voice". His efforts came to fruition and later we found Dale Evans in his element with the reorganized and retitled magazine. Dale continued to function as editor of "Kvasir" until graduation. The sophomore production for All Class Night in 1964 was an especially thoughtful chamber play amidst other, lighter presentations. Sue Davis, Dale Evans, and Doug Quick put considerable effort into the script and Barry Bratton, who also worked as a radio announcer to Huntingdon and later to Altoona audiences, was the able actor-narrator.

Through the winter, a folk singing group was formed on campus. Steve Engle was the driving force as well as arranger and composer for the group, The New Century Singers. The campus first met the group at an Oller Hall lawn folksing fest for May Day weekend. There was never any doubt as to the group's popularity among the student body.

Several members of the class were elected to the student Senate to serve until Move-Up Day of our junior year. Carolyn Ambler, Sue Riddle, and Tom Pheasant won the Senate chairs for general activities, social activities, and religious activities respectively. Other members of the class made plans to spend their junior year studying in Europe. Cindy Thoman and Jean Wermuth made plans to go to Marburg, Germany. Corky Dodge, Judy Geiser, Cathy Matter, Ann Meyers, Lorna Pollock, and Jill Tulman packed for Strasbourg, France. Sue Riddle relinquished her Senate chair for the opportunity to study in Valencia, Spain, the first of Juniata's students to study there.

Our sophomore year saw the innovation of the Discovery program. The scripts, usually one-act plays, are cast, directed, and performed by students to commendable results. Susi Davis was director of the first play, "No Exit" by Jean Paul Sartre, and she directed the majority of the other Discovery plays. Dale Evans played in "No Exit," Barry Bratton and Barb Ritter put in convincing performances as the main characters in "Hello Out There".

Coming back to Juniata in the fall of 1964, the class of 1966 found that half of its college years were spent. Still graduation did not happen to us and under the leadership of Doug Dutterer, Barry Bratton, Sandy Youngk, and Steve Gillingham we started work on our Homecoming float—a fort under Indian attack employing antique Pennsylvania long rifles. Having outgrown the Frosh-Soph Games, we had the more dignified honor of having classmate Susie Shaffer serve as the junior attendant to the Homecoming Queen.

The Variety Show held on Parents' Day gave the whole campus an opportunity to see some of the talent of the class of '66 as well as that of other classes. Ruth Crowell, Shirley Hoover, Jim Martin, Diana Ream, and Susie Shaffer were just a few of the talented juniors who gave performances at the show.

Our Christmas decorating efforts were directed at Tote and Judy Steinke moved the class to converting the large room into an Old English Village complete with ale house, haberdashery, millinery shop, sweets shop, and apothecary shop. We amazed ourselves by the wide support we gave to this winning class effort. During the winter months some of the fellows discovered a new sport—judo. The fellows interested in it organized a club for which Bert Goodrich, Dave Seeling and Harold Hall served as officers.

The All Class Night production took on aspects of satire with a fractured version of Robin Hood played by Ted Baldwin. In the course of these particular adventures, the English hero watched some suffragettes march, and a sultan, trailed by his harem, plot while the sultan's camel sought his master.

We soon realized that we would be seniors when we returned in the fall and prepared to assume some of the responsibilities of our future role. By this time, Donna Creighton and Judy Steinke had learned much about their responsibilities as editors of the JUNIATIAN and Joan Van Note was preparing for her duties as yearbook editor. On Move Up Day, Jim Lehman assumed offce as Senate president with Steve Gillingham, Carolyn Ambler, and Dave Norris stepping into the other executive positions. Pat Bruno, Mike Hall, Pete Grandy, Doris Morton, and Tom Robinson began their service as Senators. In the same ceremonies, Fred Boyer, Ed Thorn, Louise Wian, and Dan Wilshire took over leadership of the Class of 1966.

Fred's first efforts as class president came off somewhat less than successfully. Seeking greater class unity, he organized a class party and reserved Kelly's dining for the festivity. Kelly's was not over-joyed at our presence because so many of us were under age and strongly suggested that we have our party elsewhere. Spirits dampened, we adjourned to the Davis' home which was opened to students and we enjoyed the relaxing atmosphere, and most of all the welcome we got there.

As juniors, we had the final function, the Senior Reception or May Day Dance in honor of the graduating class. Carol Heaton directed the efforts and for the second year, Vil Hopcraft and Glenda Wallace were the class contributions to the May Day Court which reigned all day and evening. The decorations for the dance under the direction of Harriet Hudgins and Glenda Wallace, made the day complete.

The senior year has a quality entirely its own and we found we were still a part of the college yet our concern was diverted from it to thoughts and plans for graduation and the world beyond.

The annual tradtions got under way and the football season started under the co-captaincy of Tom Snyder and the cross-country season under co-captains Nick Hudak and Dave Phillips. Homecoming soon moved into focus. The Homecoming Queen, chosen from among the senior women, was Vil Hopcraft and her senior attendant was Susie Shaffer. The class float was a calypso scene constructed in Sherwood Forest beneath, or in spite of the "overhanging" tarpaulin. Marc Robbins directed the fall play, "He Who Gets Slapped." Susi Davis and Sue Miller played leading roles in the symbolistic, sometimes obscure Russian drama.

Girls hockey, now in its third year of inter-college play, saw these seniors in their last year: Harriet Hudgins, Kathy Eberding, Carol Limbert, Mary Zuck, Nancy Williams, and Kay Stevens. The winter sports season got under way as our fellow classmates were recognized for their athletic efforts. Ted Baldwin found himself the only senior in the basketball starting line-up. Also, Shorty Dively and Bob Klug were co-captains of the wrestling team. Nancy Williams was chosen co-captain of the women's basketball club which was in its second season of inter-collegiate competition at Juniata and its first season under student coach Roy Underwood.

Seniors found an off-campus meeting place as one at a time, we turned twenty-one. The LCB card became a real status symbol and Kelly's gained new patrons, a year older than on our previous visit. For the first time in four years, we became acquainted with the chem majors who found that they finally had a let-up in their schedule of labs.

Judy Warren planned the senior Christmas decorating efforts and we transformed Brumbaugh Social Rooms into a village train station complete with Jim Cramer's cardboard train and Mary Ann Yeager's beautiful winter panorama. With winter settling on us, many of us took advantage of the ice skating rink which Steve Gillingham, as Senate vice-president, worked so hard to procure. Even some generally blase students and faculty members conceded that the rink was one of the greatest improvements to the campus they could think of.

As finals for the first semester approached, conversation among seniors turned more frequently to wondering what our Integration lectures were all about. Conversations about the nature of naturalism cropped up and before the final, groups of seniors met just to discuss this. There are an awful lot of senior fellows who are rather grateful to Jim Lehman for the Penthouse lecture he gave the night before we went into the final.

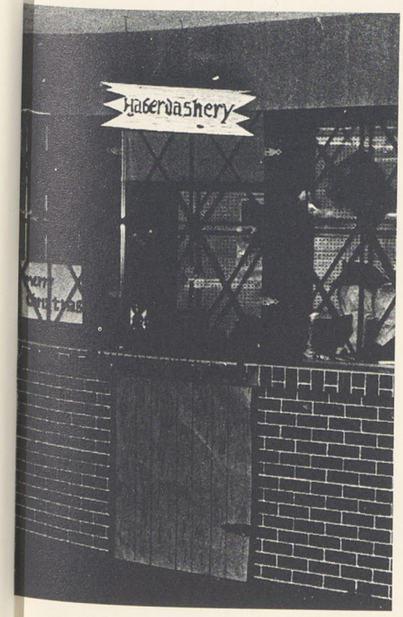

The spring semester was dominated by the thought of GRE's and comps and the realization that the future was rapidly becoming the present. The coffee house, Salut, opened on Mifflin Street; Batman dominated the national scene while the reality of Viet Nam dominated the international scene and was of special concern to our senior men. All Class Night and May Day were pleasant but graduation was of most vital interest to the Class of 1966. June 5 was finally upon us and as we participated in our final function as an undergraduate class, we knew that the four years that had once seemed so long were now passed. We were probably more of a class at graduation that we had ever been, having had the opportunity to become acquainted and to really know each other, and more important, having developed the maturity to regard each other as individuals. We never, in spite of all our mutual efforts in various projects, became enamored of "class spirit" but ever increasingly sought individual means of expressing ourselves. Sometimes our individual strivings led us to cross paths but these times gave us a greater understanding and appreciation of each other. It is probably well that we have not come to regard our collective enterprises too highly. They were fun but now class work is passed and there is individual work to be done, individual goals to be realized, and individual marks to be made.

Do You Remember?

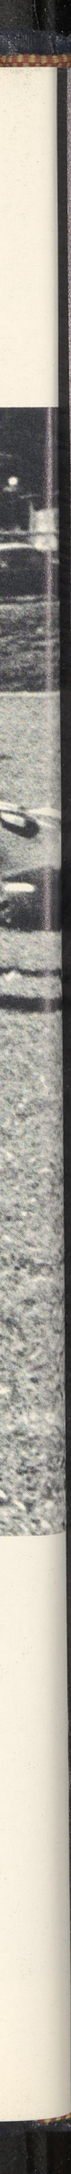

"If I should lose, let me stand by the road and cheer as the winners go by."

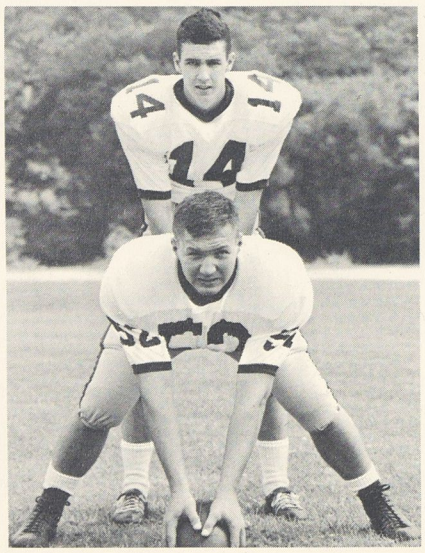

Sports

Football

Coaches: Larry Landini, Fred Prender, Bob Holmes, and Bill Berrier.

Co-captains: Gary Sheppard (14), and Tom Snyder (52).

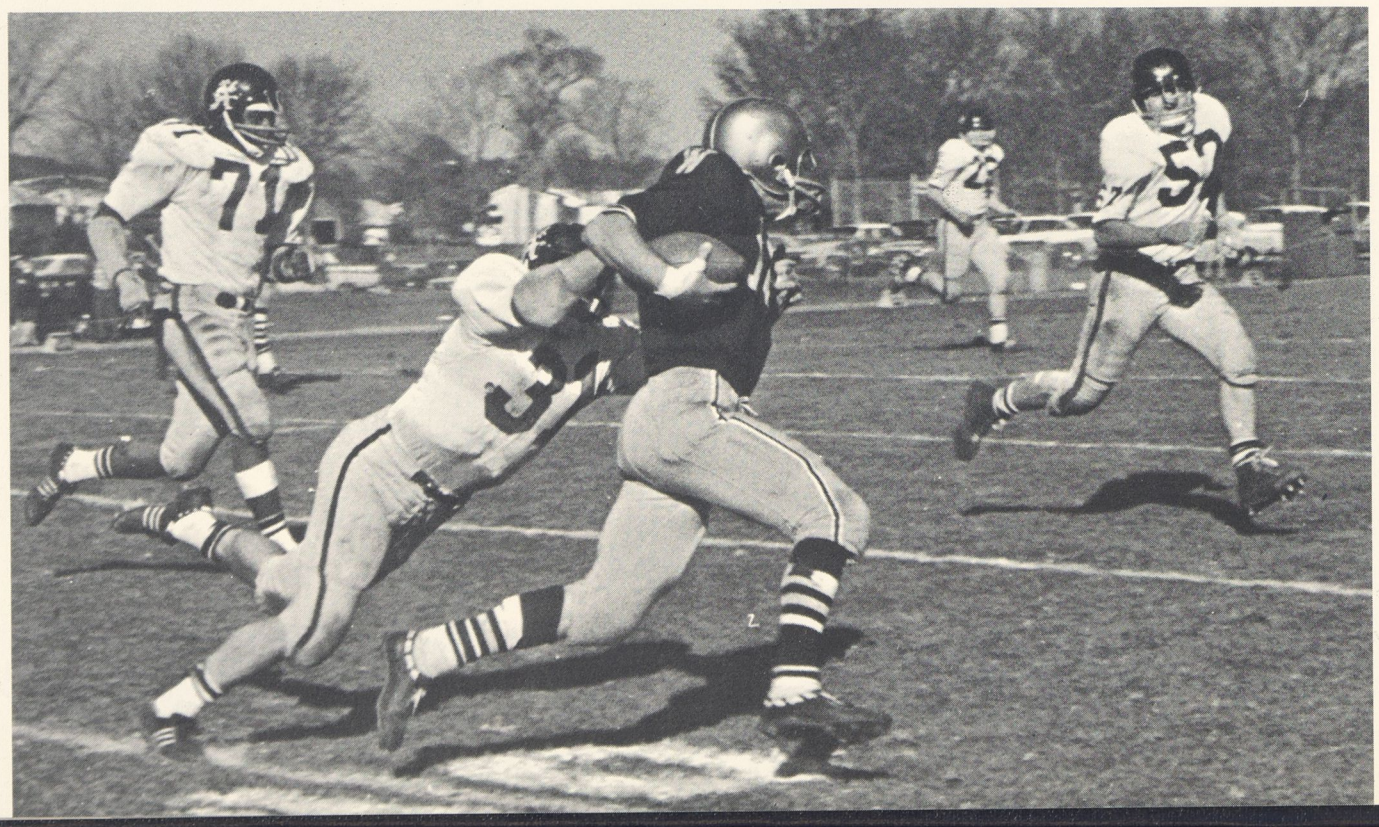

The effort and statistics of the Juniata football Indians proved much better than the 3-5 record for the 1965 season. The Indians thumped Susquehanna at Homecoming (38-6); tripped Lycoming (17-13); and ended the season on a bright note by smashing Moravian (35-13). Their loses came at the hands of Albright, Waynesburg, Geneva, Wilkes, and Gettysburg.

As a team, the Indians netted more passing yardage (1326) than their opponents (1157), with freshman Don Weiss being the statistical leader. Joining the starting lineup in the third game, Weiss broke the record for pass completions (75) held by Tarquinio (53 in 1955) and became the third player in JC modern football history to net more than 1,000 yards in a season.

Junior Bob Pascale's 36 pass receptions surpassed by one the JC record held by Barry Drexler in 1955. Pascale gained 472 yards on his catches. Jeff Barnes, a freshman, was runner-up in rushing and pass-receiving, and with Weiss and senior Bill Holland, shared scoring honors. Junior Jim Sutton was second in passing and total offense. The powerful defensive team proved an important asset during the season.

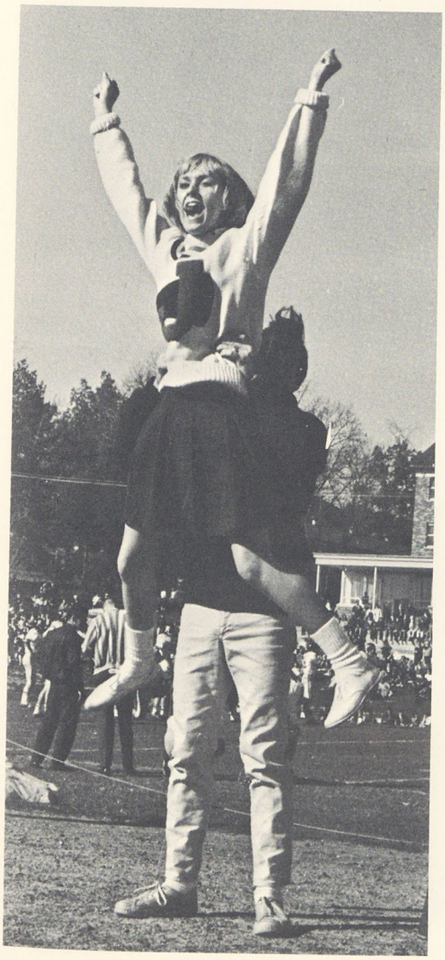

With only three seniors leaving the squad (Co-captain Tom Snyder, tackle Jack Warfield, and Holland), the 1966 season will have a more experienced nucleus upon which to build.

Chris Sherk takes a flying leap at Wilkes halfback, as Nat Mitchell (71), and Tom Snyder (52) come to help.

Hockey

The 1965-1966 Girl's Hockey Club, led by co-captains Kathy Eberding, and Mary Zuck, ended its fourth year with a 2-5 record. With 10 returning players from last year's team, the girls held their opponents to only a few points. This was the best team effort shown since hockey was first introduced on an intra-college level at Juniata. This year, the team was coached by Miss Carole Kopac, and gained much practice in scrimmage against a hockey team formed by some of the college men. With four of the 10 lettermen leaving, Miss Kopac should have the foundation for a very promising team next year.

Cross Country

The 1965 cross-country team posted a 3-6 season with freshman Rick Beard leading the runners in an impressive debut. The harriers opened their season with a 21-34 victory at Albright. Beard took first, and Tom Berkley, next year's captain, took second. This order of finish continued throughout the season, with letter-winners Tom Conrad, Jim Massingham, Tom Creighton, Sid Lansberry and Nick Hudak filling in the other scoring positions.

The second meet, on Homecoming, saw a fine Susquehanna team win 20-35. Beard was second and Berkley, sixth. With their record at 1-1, the Indian runners next split a triangular meet with West Chester and Lock Haven, losing to West Chester 18-40, and beating Lock Haven 27-28. Beard and Berkley were again Juniata's first two runners.

The team's final victory came over Geneva, 21-38. Beard was first and Berkley, third. Following this victory, the harriers lost to Franklin and Marchall (21-37), Elizabethtown (16-46), Gettysburg (19-42), and St. Francis (20-35).

The cross-country team loses only Hudak and Phillips through graduation. With the addition of a few freshmen and sophomores, the team is looking forward to a more rewarding season in 1966.

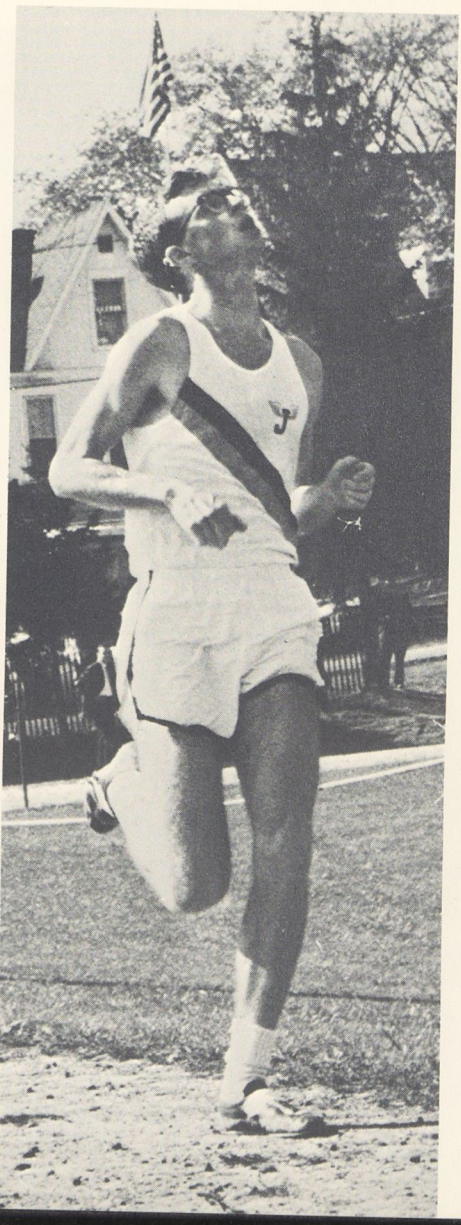

There they go!

Basketball

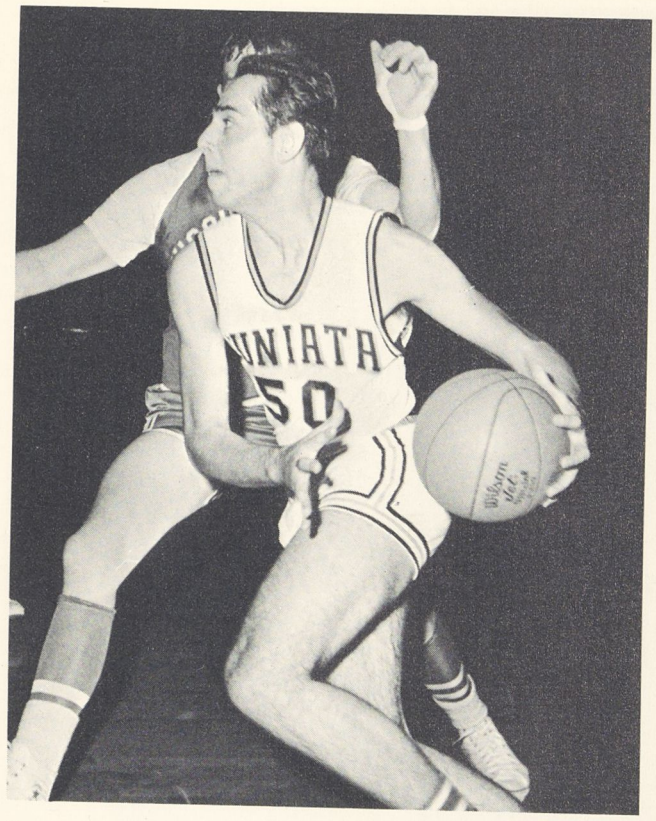

The 1965-1966 Varsity Basketball Team finished an unfortunate season with a 2-15 record, defeating only Lock Haven and Franklin and Marshall.

Soph Bill Williams led the team with 195 rebounds for an average of 11.4 per game. Leading the team in both assists and scoring was Soph Clair Kenyon, with a total of 231 points, and an average of 13.5 points per game. Frosh Tom Dettore led the team in field goals and foul percentages with 42.1 and 68.5 respectively. Dettore also led the team in point average with a 14.1 average in 13 games. Soph Will Brandau placed second in rebounding with 151, and Junior Bob Pascale was third in scoring with 172 points and a 10.1 point average.

The Indians lose only two seniors this year: Captain Ted Baldwin, and Jim Bronson, the latter better known as "Brons". With 12 returning Varsity players, and several prospective freshmen, this coming season should prove more promising.

The 1965-1966 wrestling team has been one of the strongest, as well as the largest, in Juniata's history. Some 35 men began the season to develop a well-balanced team.

The 5-5 record does not exhibit the team's real strength since the several matches were lost on bad breaks. The most exciting match of the year was the impressive victory over a powerful Gettysburg team. Then, after several losses, the team reasserted itself by defeating Lebanon Valley and Indiana.

This year's matmen were captained by Seniors "Shorty" Dively, and Bob Klug. Shorty sported a fine 7-3 record to lead the team in joints, and in pins. Junior Dick Feigles performed a 6-1-2 record, while seniors Mel Rummel and Dean Richards had good records in the 145 and 152 pound classes.

Chris Sherk and Phil Eatough were especially tough on the mats this year. Chris compiled an impressive 7-2 record, and Phil wrestled well, until illness forced him to leave the team with two matches remaining. Freshman Ken Loss, making some weight adjustments, filled in for Eatough.

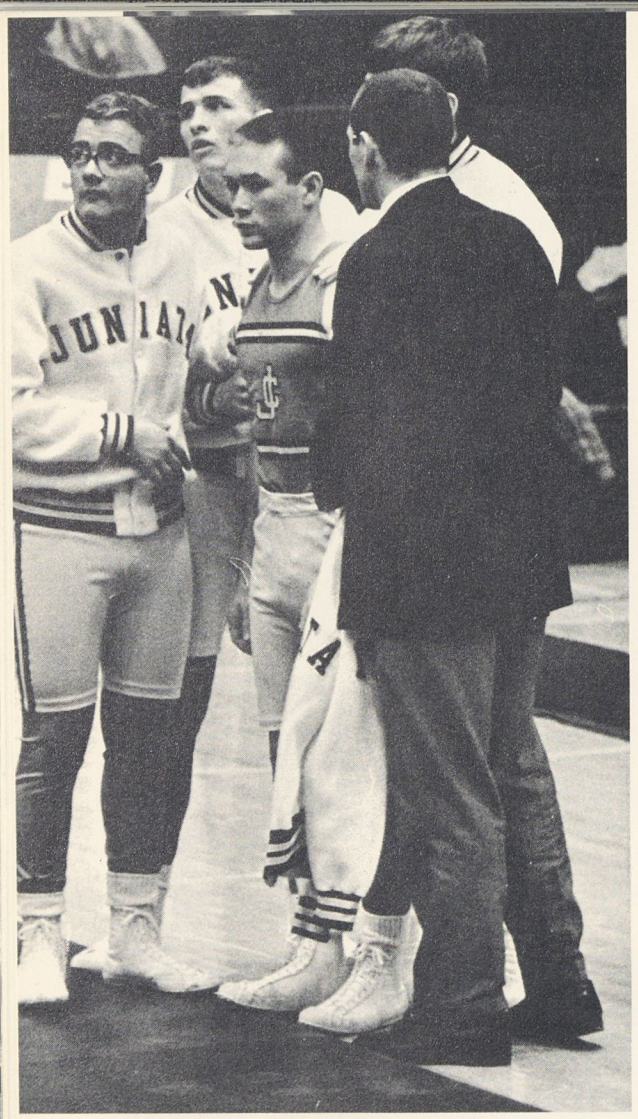

Bob Butz, Jim Pyle, Jack Hopper, Lloyd Maxson, and Vic Arrington rounded out the strong nucleus of the team, along with the Hoover brothers, Ron and Don, who both won some exciting key matches.

Don Engle

Baseball

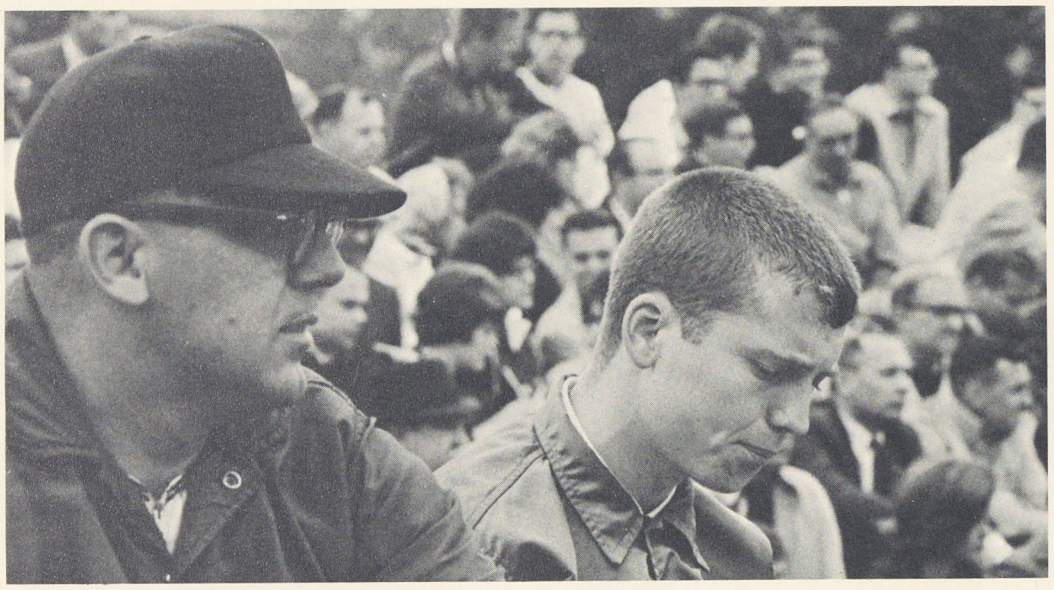

The 1965 JC baseball team, led by coach Fred Prender, had one of those up and down seasons compiling a 7-7 record. The boys started the year with three straight victories over Lock Haven, Lebanon Valley and Dickinson before losing a 12-inning heartbreaker to Indiana. In this game freshman John Good gave us a promise of things to come in shutting out his opponent for 11 innings. Lack of offensive punch was exhibited in this game and continued to plague the Indians for the remainder of the season.

Senior captain Don Engle led the team in hitting with a .356 batting average. He was followed by freshman Steve Horner. Don also proved to be the mainstay of the pitching staff as he compiled a 5-3 record including a 1-0 masterpiece over Lycoming in his final game for Juniata.

A lack of experience was quite evident for the Indians last year but they can look for a much improved team next season as Engle is the only player lost through graduation. Coach Prender's hopes will be based on co-captains Gary Sheppard and Jim Reid as well as Ernie Moyer, Dennis Cowher, Bob Pascale, Steve Horner, Dave Shimp, and Denis Albright. The pitching staff should retain its high quality with senior Bill Kaufmann and sophomore John Good leading the corps.

Track

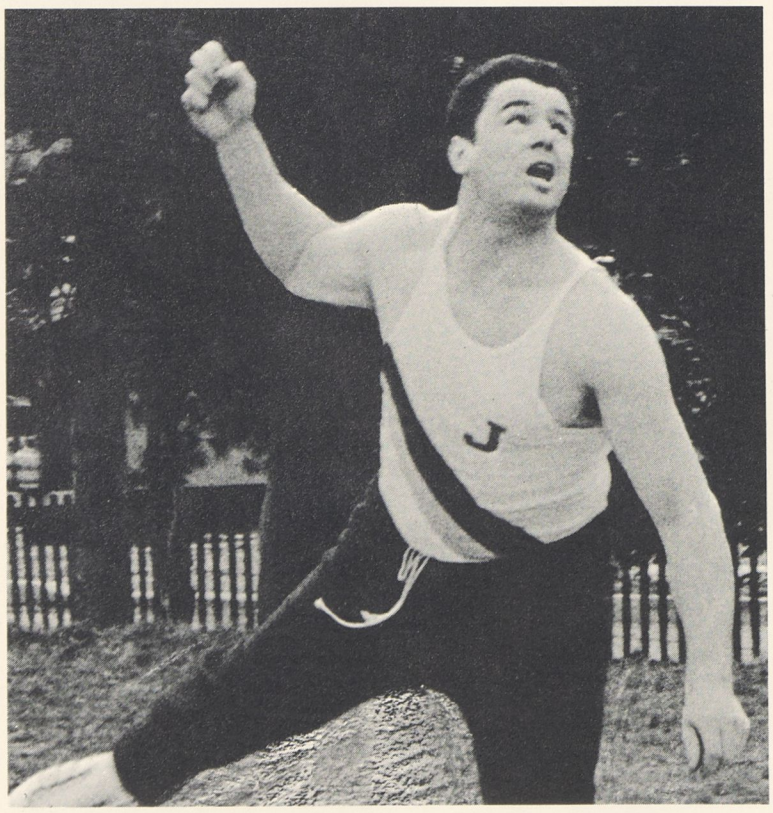

The 1965 track team, though only winning one meet, had some individual achievements and promising underclassmen that made a worthwhile season, otherwise. Senior captain and distance runner Earl Samuel, led the team in scoring with 74 points, bringing his career total to 231. Earl also placed third in the two-mile event at the MAC championships and was voted the outstanding track man for the season. He became the first athlete in the history of Juniata to win three awards: The Stanford Mickle Athletic Award; the J. Foster Gehrett Award (track); and the C. Clifford Brown, Sr., Award (Cross Country). Senior Bill Baker was graduated with two records: the 220-yard low hurdles and the 330-yard intermediate hurdles.

Though the team lost six senior lettermen, it left promising sophomore Bill Williams, second high scorer on the team who set a school record in a new event: the triple jump; hurdler Paul Larson, Tom Beam, Ron Favinger, George Zlupko, Mike Auker and Dave Rowlands.

Tennis

Led by co-captains Neale Clopper and Dave Rodenbaugh, the 1965 tennis team rolled up a 7-3 record, the best in 10 years. Overall, team members were 40-20 in singles and 40-14 in doubles. Rodenbaugh and Jack Haskell, both seniors, posted 7-3 logs as did John Solis-Cohen, a fine-looking freshman who held down the number four spot all season. Larry Bieber, sophomore Number one player, followed with a 6-4 record. Neale Clopper won the Calvert Ellis award for the most valuable player with his 5-3 singles and 5-0 doubles record. The other letter winners were seniors Jesse Wright and John Fair, and sophomore Jim Dinger. All had successful seasons.

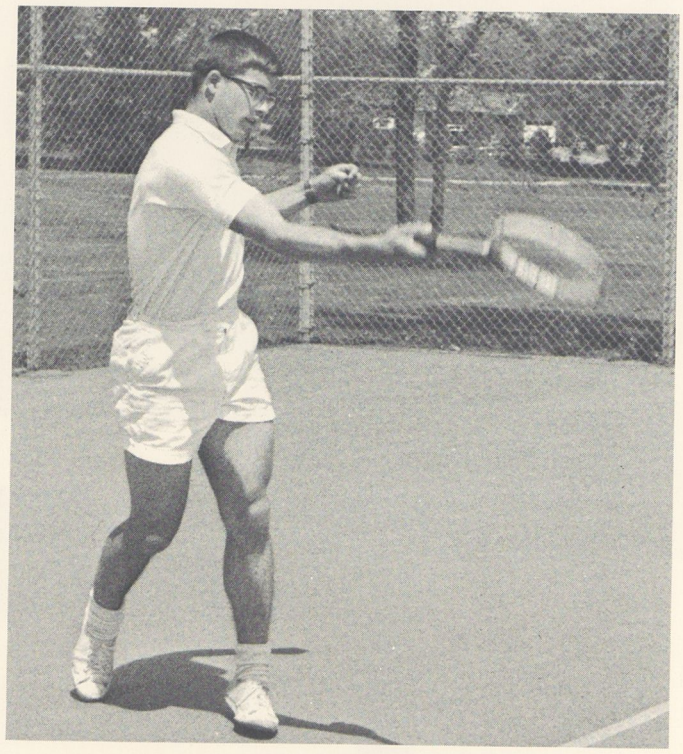

With five of eight lettermen graduating, Coach Ernest Post will be rebuilding this year. But with the three returning letter winners, plus Ken Howie, Dennis Kenee, Ken Dick, Paul Baker, Jeff Scott, and some promising freshmen, the tennis team could again be well over the .500 mark this season.

Organizations

Student Government

The Student Senate is the co-ordinating body for all the various aspects of student activties. In addition to the four officers, chairmen are elected by the student body each spring to represent nine specific areas of campus life. Each of these chairs, through subordinate committees, manages those matters under its auspices.

The 1965-66 Senate began work on an off-campus coffee house, constructed an ice-skating rink, and gave its support to a program aimed to bring educationally deprived students to Juniata. The Dining Hall Commission was also reestablished.

Athletic Committee

The Athletic Committee functions as the coordinator of all intramural athletic activities on campus. Its purpose is to get as many students and faculty as possible to participate in the program and to carry out these programs efficiently. The football season saw nine intramural teams in action. This season's basketball roster was the largest ever, with close to three hundred men participating on twenty-nine teams.

Education Committee

This committee is the link between the student body and the faculty concerning academic affairs. Members work closely with the Dean of the College in striving to establish better relationships between students and faculty. The Proctoring Bureau and the Freshman Academic Aid Program are also under the Education Committee.

General Activities Committee

The General Activities Committee co-ordinates class, club, and student efforts in an attempt to carry out the traditions and special weekends important to Juniata campus life. Tropical Treat, the Homecoming theme, started the year off. The Committee then went on to organize J.C. Movie Night, Spring Carnival, and May Day activities.

Religious Activities Committee

This committee plans and carries out All-College Worship Services, and the traditional Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter programs. The Children's Christmas Party for the underprivileged children in the area, is sponsored by the Religious Activities Committee with the help of the P.S.E.A. In February, the committee is sponsoring an Inter-Faith Seminar of three days.

Social Committee

This year the Social Committee and the events it has planned have been very well received. The committee is responsible for any social activities that takes place on campus. These activities include formal and informal dances, movies, and Twirp Week. It often works with the General Activities Committee and other clubs in conjunction with special events.

Underclassmen Committee

The Underclassmen Committee plans and supervises the period of orientation with responsibility for student-led seminars for freshmen, the freshmen counseling service, Frosh Help Day, Frosh-Soph Games, Frosh Court, and K "Regs." This year the Senate approved of a plan to replace the freshman class officers with a steering committee of eight freshmen elected by the class. These eight would organize the class activities until Move-Up Day.

Women's Gov't.

All women students are members of the Women's Student Government of Juniata College. One branch of this government is Women's House, a legislative body which consists of representatives from each of the women's dormitories. In each residence hall, these girls and the residence director from the dormitory council officiate business relevant to the dorm. Women's House sponsors the annual Firelighting Ceremony, skit night for co-eds, the Christmas Banquet, dormitory Christmas decorations, and many other functions that benefit the whole student body.

Women's Judicial Board

This board is responsible for hearing cases of violations of those rules which apply to the conduct of resident women students. It counsels with the individual students and takes action deemed appropriate when infractions occur.

Men's Gov't.

Men's Government is the representative body of the male students. It acts in a supervisory capacity in the dorms and serves as liaision between the men and the Dean of Men. Its main functions are maintaining quiet hours and the orderliness in the dormitories, correcting problems when complaints are made, taking precautions to protect College property, and supplying minor conveniences for the halls. Each men's residence hall has a judicial council which hears all minor infractions of the rules and decides punishments.

Kvasir

Kvasir, the literary magazine, serves as an indication of and a catalyst to the range and quality of creative writing among the students. Its development over the three years of its existence has been paralleled, and to a great extent caused by an increase in student interest in writing. It provides not only an opportunity for student writers to publish their work, but for student editors to exercise judgment and imagination in the creation of the magazine. Its goal to be not merely a passive receptacle for student contributions, but an active initiating vehicle which fosters, encourages, and nurtures a variety of manifestations of student activism and creativity.

Business Staff: Rick Allen, Robert Klaum, James McClure, Alan Ringgold.

The Juniatian, a weekly newspaper, is operated entirely under student direction. A circulation of approximately two thousand among students, parents, and alumni is the largest ever. The four page paper furnishes its readers with an account of events at Juniata as well as to serve as a voice of the students on current, national, and international events. The Juniatian is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press, and receives biannual evaluations. In December, five staff members attended the Governor's annual press conference for collegiate journalists. After the press conference, the staff had a chance to meet with the Secretary of Labor.

P.S.E.A.

The Pennsylvania State Education Association, an organization for interested students planning to enter the field of teaching, provides opportunities for all members to prepare for the ever-widening role of educational leadership. Book and pamphlet exhibits; traditional Halloween party for grade school children in the town; Christmas service projects; and discussions concerning ethics, discipline, new curriculum trends, application and interviews for future employment are a few of the many provisions of P.S.E.A. As interpreters of our American way of life, and builders of the images which future leaders of our nations will hold, the teacher must face greatly magnified responsibility. The catalyst to stimulate him is his professional organization.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club was organized to give students majoring in chemistry and associated fields insight into different aspects of chemistry. This is accomplished by attending lectures by experts in the field of chemistry.

Debate Society

The Debate Society is organized to promote inter-collegiate forensic activity at Juniata College. During the year the society sends teams to other colleges and universities in the Eastern United States to participate in tournament competition.

Tycoon Club

The Tycoon Club came into its own this year with the take-over of a progressive and liberal faction. The club has moved toward its goal of a New York City trip; where it expects to tour Chase Manhattan and the New York Stock Exchange. The club, made up of sophomore, junior, and senior business and economic majors, will long be remembered for making drinking mugs available to students. The ice cream smorgasbourg and watermelon race will not soon be forgotten.

J. B. S. F.

The Juniata Brethren Student Fellowship is sponsored by the Huntingdon Stone Church of the Brethren. They hold weekly discussions centering on the role of the Christian on campus.

Deputation Club

The Deputation Club provides vocal ensembles, pianists or organists, and student speakers for churches in the area. Membership is interdenominational. Its purpose is to give churches more contact with the college, to enable prospective students to talk with present students, and to give college participants an opportunity for service.

Newman Club

A Roman Catholic Organization, the Newman Club strives for the religious, intellectual and social betterment of its members.

Classics Club

Pi Delta Gamma (the classics club), was organized to stimulate interest in the study of the classical languages and to increase our knowledge of the cultures of ancient Greece and Rome. Three programs are planned for each semester, each of an informative nature based upon the scholarly and cultural aspects of the two ancient civilizations.

Sigma Psi

Sigma Psi was organized so that members might gain insight into the developments and problems in the field of sociology through its functions. The club sponsors a trip to one of the state institutions in the spring.

W. A. A.

The Women's Athletic Association is open to all Juniata co-eds interested in athletic and recreation. The Homecoming Dance, intramural and intercollegiate sports, swim parties and modern dance groups are included among its activities.

Freshman Steering Committee

This year the Freshmen Class was guided by a Steering Committee composed of four women and four men elected from the class at large. The various activities of the committee included: planning and supervising a Homecoming Float, Christmas decorations on Oller Hall, decorations for the Mid-Winter Formal, an All-Class Nite play, and the writing of the class constitution.

Camera Club

The Camera Club with the capable direction of Miss Junas, provides a laboratory and studio in the basement of Faculty Club where students learn and practice the various phases of photography. The Club works closely with the Alfarata and the Juniatian, by producing pictures of campus life.

Lambda Gamma

Lambda Gamma is a campus organization for students majoring in home economics. Belonging to the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association, the club takes part in statewide workshops. This year, as part of the annual service project, the club purchased books for the J. C. Blair Hospital Library.

Touring Choir

The Juniata Touring Choir, under the direction of Professor Bruce Hirsch, is a group of highly talented college students chosen for their individual maturity, musicianship, and desire to produce excellent choral music.

The 1965-1966 choir made a successful nine-day tour of eastern Pennsylvania and Maryland, serving both churches and high schools with a varied program of sacred and secular compositions. In addition to the extended tour, the choir made four week-end trips to Pennsylvania communities, appeared on radio and T.V., and joined forces with the Susquehanna, Lycoming, and Elizabethtown college choirs for annual combined concerts.

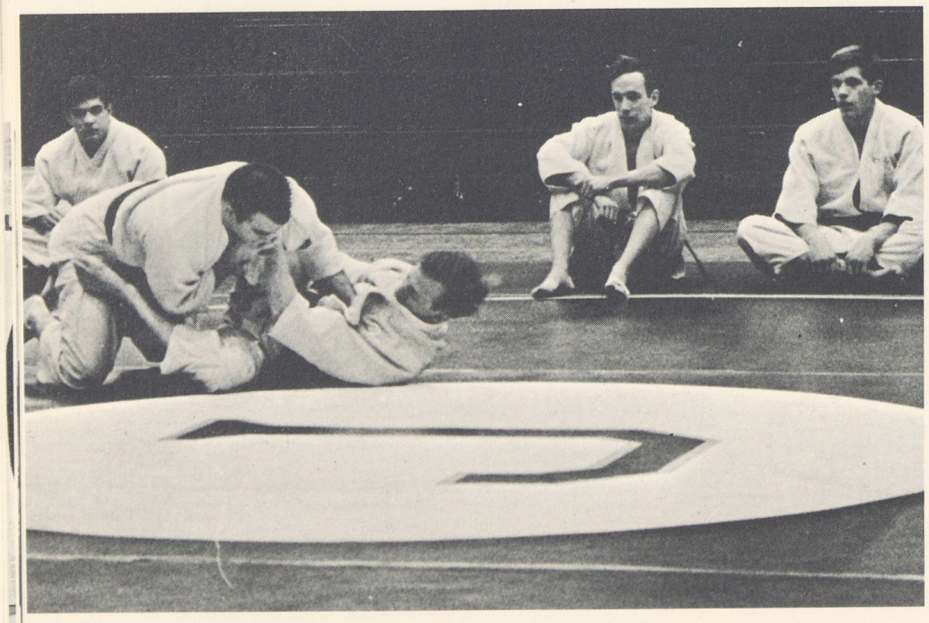

The Touring Choir, along with the Christmas Pageant Chorus, Huntingdon Chamber Ensemble, Children's Choir, Brass Ensemble, Baroque Players and a corps of dancers produced a fully staged and costumed Christmas Pageant, which was performed in Oller Hall, December 12, 1965.

Judo Club

The Judo Club was organized last year by faculty member Robert Fisher. This is the first year the club was recognized as a varsity sport. This winter the club hosted Cornell University at a Judo clinic on campus.

Juniata College Marching Band

The Juniata Marching Band, under the direction of Douglas Fleshman, along with the Pompom Girls, the Twirlers, the Cheerleaders and the Color Guard help to add spirit to the football games. These groups provide half time entertainment at all home football games, as well as providing music and cheers for the Friday evening pep rallies. This is the first year Juniata has had men on the cheering squad adding to the spirit and enthusiasm of the football game.

Homecoming

Early in October, Homecoming 1965 attracted a host of parents, and alumni to the "Tropical Treats" on Juniata's campus. Imaginatively transported to the jungles of South America by this theme, students and guests enjoyed Friday night entertainment at the "Café del Río" in Tote, in addition to the pep rally and informal mixer. Saturday's festivities began with the traditional Homecoming Parade through Huntingdon, followed by the game with Susquehanna, the crowning of Homecoming Queen Vilda Hopcraft, and the presentation of the Float Competition Award to the class of 1967. Dancing "In a Tropical Forest" climaxed the week-end in Memorial Gym, and honored Queen Vilda, her court, and alumni guests.

The Cast of "He Who Gets Slapped".

He Who Gets Slapped

The circus world was explored in the Fall Play, He Who Gets Slapped. The audience formed an integral part of the play, appearing as the circus audience. The theater in the round presentation put the actors in close contact with the audience, and added the necessary atmosphere for the play. The play is a highly symbolic Russian play by Leonid Andreyev. The play was, as an experience, in some ways new, difficult and alien, but always a challenge and full of excitement. As the program suggested, the audience discovered a kaleidoscopic experience, "Dismiss preconceived ideas of theater entertainment and enter freely into a vortex of deepening pessimism. Perhaps, like Tolstoy, you will say 'Leonid Andreyev tries to frighten me, but I am not afraid.' Whatever your verdict, we suspect you will discover a most gifted writer using the theater medium with originality and penetration."

Through the play, the students and faculty were treated to an artistic product of the Russo-Japanese War, the ideas and the portrayal of the writer's conception of the people of the time. And indeed a new writer of originality and penetrating power was discovered by many.

Parent's Week-end

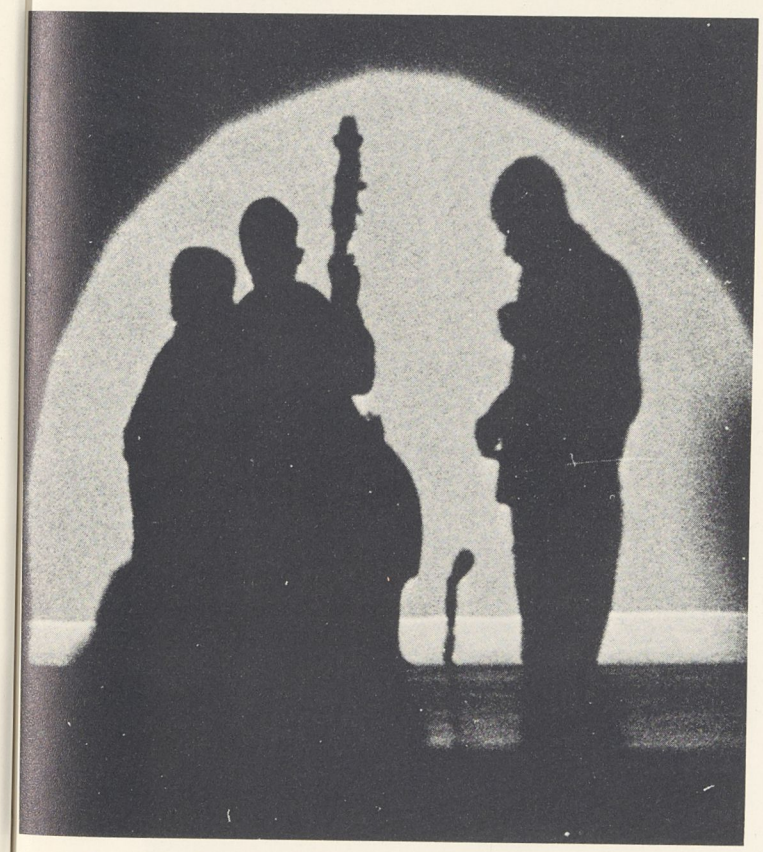

Special campus activities filled the week-end of October 30th, as Juniata students again welcomed their parents to the campus. Class visitations, hall displays, and room competitions, a faculty-student tennis tournament, and the football game with Wilkes were features of the morning and afternoon. As a new innovation, the reception following the game provided the opportunity for parents to meet, and to talk with the faculty; and as a continuing tradition, the students produced an excellent Variety Show which was held in the evening in honor of their special guests. To conclude the week-end, students and parents worshipped together in a modern religious service of music and drama presented by students and faculty in Oller Hall.

Christmas at J. C.

"Here Comes Santa Claus, Here Comes Santa Claus," right down J. C. Lane. Classes had been working and slaving on the "Chain Gang," striving to complete the decorations for Christmas for the annual student competition. The students had "Decked the Halls with Boughs of Holly," and asked of other students, "Do You See What I See?," as the Christmas Train in Brumbaugh Lounge rolled in. The lights fell on New York, Tote-style, while Santa's elves captured Oller Hall with a red and white candy cane. Christmas Bells rang out on Founder's Porch, while all cried, "Let's Do It Over Again," real soon.

Christmas Pageant

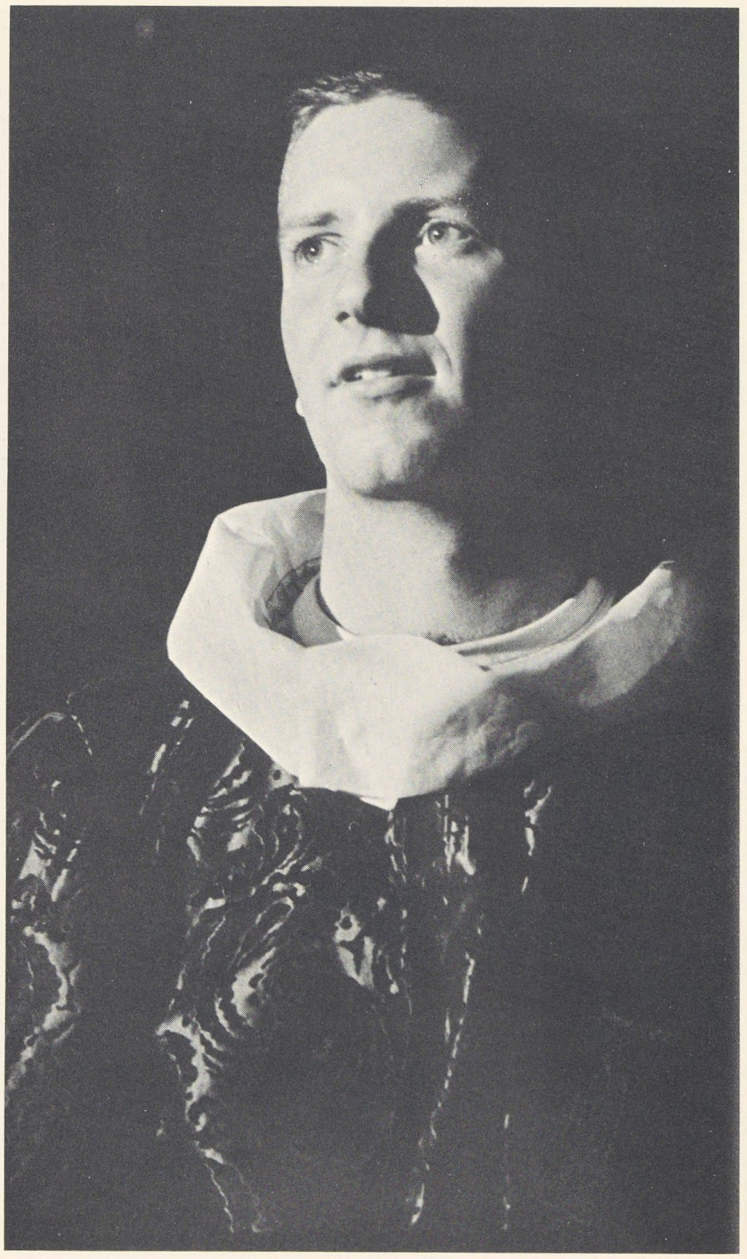

On December 12, a brass ensemble, faculty members and their children, the Juniata College Choir, the Baroque Players, and a special chorus of students, offered an exciting Christmas pageant for the college community. Bruce A. Hirsch directed the music; his wife, Marjorie Hirsch, directed the staging.

Action centered around the banquet hall of a 16th century manor house where the holiday season was being gaily celebrated. Carollers, in medieval costume, moved on and off the stage, and through the audience. Traditional English tunes and familiar carols told the story of Christmas and its customs. Dancers and instrumentalists added to the period's jolly atmosphere. A roving narrator, David Norris, presented historical notes and served as the connecting link in the program. The association of the secular and the spiritual sides of Christmas become clear through the narrator's speeches.

The theme portrayed, NOT the birth of Christ, but the wonderful things that have come to us because of this event. Against the backdrop of a colorful period; the sparkle, joy, and awe of the Christmas season were brightened to a climax in the pageant of 1965.

Coffee House

Salut, a word which means greetings in French and sounds just as welcoming when Americans say it, has been chosen as the name for Juniata's coffee house.

One might call it amazing or even a wonder, but the fact still remains that an unbelievable amount of work has been done to produce this first off-campus student center. It became possible to complete work on the coffee house after the college purchased the building from the estate of the late Mr. Lee Coffman, thus solving the legal complications. The structure itself has been arranged inside with tables and chairs to accommodate 75 people. Murals, candles and curtains promote the atmosphere. Various bands, records, and ensembles may be enjoyed during the regular coffee house hours.

Jeppe of the Hill

Oller Hall stage rang with laughter as faculty, parents, and students relaxed and enjoyed an evening of fun while watching Jeppe of the Hill, a rustic farce by Ludwig Holberg. Jeppe was played by Marc Robbins, a senior, who has been an active participant in dramatics since his freshman year. J.C. students saw Marc's last performance on Oller Stage, but those who saw it will long remember the enjoyment Marc had interpreting the role and making this rustic peasant come alive before our eyes.

Not only will Marc be remembered for his performance as Jeppe, but who could forget that shrew of a wife, Nelle, played by Alice Hockenberry. In fact, the entire cast may be commended on their excellent performance.

The play is rather straight forward and has a simple plot, but the plot is composed of a joke that is played on our poor drunken friend Jeppe, and more fun is added by Holberg's play on words. The play is topped off by the characters grotesque costumes, mannerisms, and speaking voices.

Mr. Briggs' production touched the light side of all our hearts as he staged the second arena play staged at Juniata College.

Focus Series

The Focus Series again this year presented a wide variety of programs. Among the guests invited was Robert B. Luce, Publisher of the New Republic, who spoke on "The American Poor-Can We Eliminate Poverty?" in Alumni Hall to students, faculty, and friends. Dave Brubek and the Spanish Dancers provided a pleasant change of pace. The Norwegian Orchestra visited the campus in March with a stimulating performance that was given in Oller Hall.

Move Up Day

The annual Move-Up Day ceremony was held traditionally in Oller Hall. The old Senate, proud of the progress made during it's term of office stepped down as the new Senate officers and chairman, filled with enthusiasm for the coming year, assumed their positions. With the filing out of the upperclassmen, two lines were formed on Oller Hall lawn. Through these marched the old and new Senates followed closely by the freshman. Upon their arrival on the porch of L. A. Beeghly Library, one verse of the Alma Mater was sung bringing an end to the program.

Both Dean Mays and Dean Low begin to form the traditional line in front of Oller Hall.

All-Class Nite

After much agitated preparation the Twenty-Ninth Annual All Class Nite was ready for presentation on the evening of March 26, 1966. The spirit of competition was especially keen among all the classes in preparing their plays around a general historical theme. The Juniors started off the evening with a very well-produced drama entitled Herodias, a play rooted in the Bible, and revealing the cunning of Herod's wife, Herodias, in forcing her daughter Salome into initiating the murder of the Prophet John. Following this, the Freshmen presented "The Prefabricated Parthenon," a comedy which revolved around the way in which the Greek people constructed their edifice to the gods. This class, most unusually, worked out an amusing story that was enhanced by the acting ability of the main characters. After a brief intermission, the Senior class got their chance to present "B.U.S.T.," an interpretation of the James Bond character in Rome at the time of the murder of Julius Caesar. This play ran quite smoothly, and was made more enjoyable by the use of two original songs written by Steve Engle. The Sophomores, however, took the honors for the evening with their skit concerning the voyage of Columbus, a crazy Italian boy, to America. "The Discovery of America," or "It's a Round-Round World" was able to take first prize due to the excellence of its costumes, production, and its scenery, as well as its appeal to the audience.

Science Complex Dedication

"The new Norman J. Brumbaugh Science Center takes its impressive place at Juniata as a contribution to the academic climate in which the fields of science are explored." The completion of the four-unit complex, which was started in mid-summer of 1964, will help to maintain the college's outstanding record in producing scientists. Space is provided for four departments in three separate, but connecting wings: biology in the two-level west wing; chemistry in the two-floor south wing; geology on the ground floor, and physics on the main floor of the north wing.

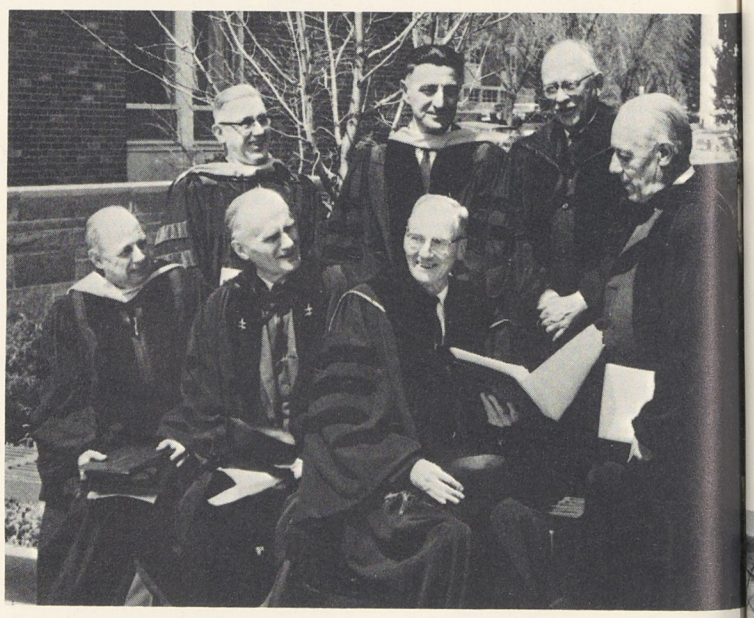

The Science Center will also provide a focal point for a broad scope of activities. The two-story circular unit at the center of the complex has a 448-seat auditorium named Alumni Hall.

A Science Library is located in the upper half of the central building. Its decorative aluminum grill on the glass-fronted exterior is a distinctive feature of the modern design.

The dedication of the complex took place on April 16, 1966, the 90th anniversary of the college. The main address was given by Dr. Detlev W. Bronk, president of Rockefeller University. Presenting symposiums were the eminent scientists Dr. Erwin L. Hahn in physics, Dr. Walter J. Hamer in chemistry, Dr. Jack E. Myers in botany and zoology, and Dr. Hollis D. Hedberg in geology. All were recipients of honorary degrees.

May 1965

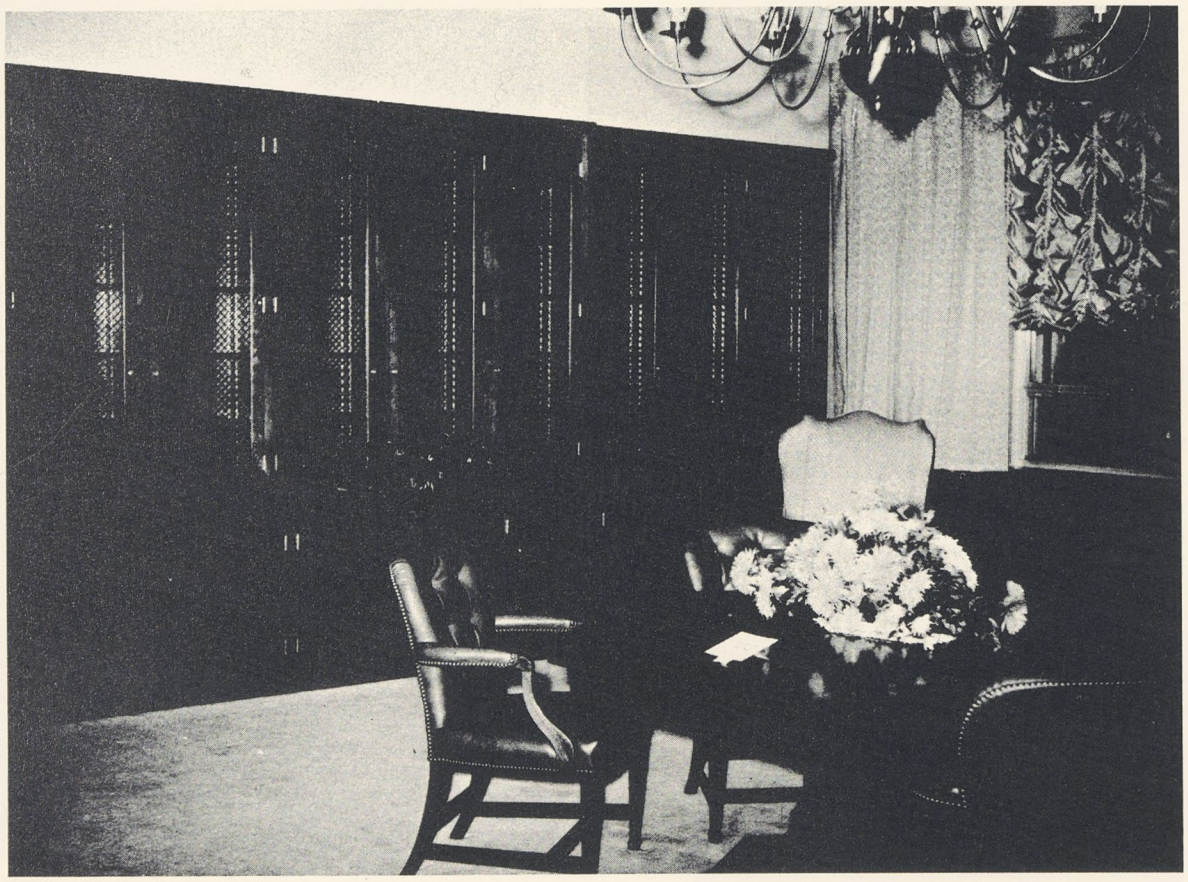

The strains of "Camelot" were heard throughout the campus during the May Day Week-End this year. For the first time, Alumni Day was held simultaneously, as Alumni returned to enjoy the festivities which began Friday evening when the New Century Singers treated the campus to a full-length concert in Oller Hall. Saturday morning, everyone enjoyed the baseball game with Elizabethtown, and the delicious boxed lunches after the game. During the afternoon, an outdoor band concert preceded the presentation of the lovely May Queen. Miss Suzanne Judy and her court which included Maid of Honor Sandy Haines, was presented to alumni, parents, and the college community on Oller Hall Lawn. Prince Charming, Barry Broadwater, crowned the 1965 May Queen in front of a colorful panorama depicting scenes from the musical "Camelot". Following the royal procession, a humorous court play was presented in Her Majesty's Honor. That evening, Lesher Dining Hall became a setting for "Happy Ever Aftering . . .", as faculty, alumni, and students enjoyed the dance presented by the Class of 1966.
